Light on the Millennium
(The Thousand Years)

The General Electric Company has had 200 scientists working in Santa Barbara, California, on a seven-million-dollar-a-year budget trying to find out what will happen in 2000 A.D. The Air Force has been spending fifteen million dollars a year on the same kind of project. The scientists study the past and the present, and then draw a line to the future. They also gather a consensus of the forecasts of many scientists.

Some think that in the 21st century man will do away with the wheel, getting around by hovercraft. Planes carrying 1000 people will cruise at speeds just below that of sound. Ballistics will transport you anywhere in the world in 40 minutes. Bacterial diseases will be eliminated. Energy for the United States will come from a dozen stations, one of which, if placed on Mt. Wilson, could raise Los Angeles' inversion layer to 19,000 feet and drive away its smog. Sea breezes could be sucked in, and rain make the desert a paradise all the way to Las Vegas. Just give us time, they say, and we'll make paradise on earth.

Only 10% of America's 330 million people will work as the other 90% will be paid the present equivalent of an annual dole of $30,000 to $40,000 just to keep idle. Harvard's Emmanuel Mesthene thinks man will by himself overcome his "original sin" and make his own godless heaven here on earth.

But some don't see this as too rosy a future. Herman Kahn foresees a pleasure-oriented society full of "wholesome degeneracy," a society run by a small elite with the rest existing as a mindless multitude on drugs, amused by circuses, half of them in prison. Some foresee the "have-not" nations warring against the super-rich U.S.

What does the Bible say about the future? We know this—what it says, we can trust!

1. Does the Bible say that modern man will solve our ecology-pollution problem and make this world beautiful and happy? See Revelation 11:15, 18.

ANSWER: Due to man's failure, "The kingdoms of this world are [will] become _____ our _____ and of his Christ " . . . The nations were _____ , and Thy _____ is come, . . . and that Thou . . . shouldst _____ which destroy the earth."

3. What better hope has Jesus promised His people? John 14:1-3.

ANSWER (verse 3): "I _____ and receive _____ unto Myself; that where _____ , there _____ ."

4. What inheritance will come to those who respond to the love of Christ? 1 Thessalonians 4:16, 17.

ANSWER: "The dead in Christ shall _____ : then we which are alive _____ _____ with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be _____ .”

7. Why will Satan be “bound” a thousand years? Read Revelation 20:1-3, 5, and see the note below.

YOUR ANSWER: _____ .

The “rest of the dead” are the lost people. The people who “live and reign with Christ” are the redeemed ones, taken to heaven when Christ returns. No one is left on earth alive.

“The bottomless pit” is abysos in the Greek, meaning a desolate, uninhabited place. (Read about it in the next question.)

8. What will the earth be like during these thousand years? Jeremiah 4:23-27.

ANSWER: “I beheld the earth, and, lo, it was _____ , and _____ .” (This is the same expression as abysos in Greek.)

Satan will have nothing to do but to wander up and down this ruined planet to look at the results of his war against God. In the meantime the saints will be busy in judgment with Christ (see Revelation 20:4-6 and 1 Corinthians 6:2, 3). The Father refuses to judge any of the lost without the full participation of the saints (see John 12:47-48).

12. After the fire ends the misery of the lost and cleanses this polluted, sin-cursed earth, what happens next? Ezekiel 28:18, 19; Malachi 4:1; Proverbs 11:31; Revelation 21:1, 3-5.

ANSWER: “And I saw a _____ heaven and a _____ earth. . . .” “The tabernacle of God is with _____, and He will _____, and they shall be His _____, and _____ shall be _____, and be their God.” “And God shall _____ from their eyes; and there shall be _____ . . . Behold, I make all things _____.”

13. If you were God, could you think of a better way to bring an end to sin, and create a happy Kingdom? See Revelation 5:11-13. _____

God has been patient with those who chose to rebel. At last, all will see that He has been both just and merciful. By his/her choice of lifestyle and character, each human being has cast a vote freely. The lost will judge themselves as unworthy of eternal life. The saved will ascribe all honor to their Saviour. Christ will win His kingdom by the overwhelming majority-vote of His universe.

In all ages God's people have been educated in the school of trial. They walked in narrow paths on earth; they were purified in the furnace of affliction. For Jesus' sake they endured opposition and hatred. They endured self-denial and experienced bitter disappointments. They learned the evil of sin, its power, its guilt, its woe. But now the days of pain are forever ended. The King of glory has wiped the tears from all faces; every cause of grief has been removed. They pour forth a song of praise, sweet and harmonious; every voice takes up the strain until the anthem swells through the vaults of heaven: “Salvation to our God which sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb.” And all the inhabitants of heaven respond: “Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honor, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever” (Revelation 7:10, 12).

“Casting all your care upon Him; for He careth for you.” 1 Peter 5:7

“Pray without ceasing.” 1 Thessalonians 5:17
